Obituary

Gwendolyn Joyce Huddleston was born on February 19, 1955 in Beggs, Oklahoma to Troy Chester and Betty Huddleston. Better known to family and friends as "Pat", she attended Moon Jr. High and Frederick A. Douglass High school.

Gwendolyn was baptized at an early age and she attended Integrity Voice of Victory Church (IVVC). She made IVVC her home and loved to praise the Lord. She was humble, soft spoken and had a sweet spirit.

Gwendolyn loved to look and smell good. Gwendolyn was inspired by gospel music and faithful in serving the Lord. She had a big heart; she would give to anyone and open her doors with urgency to help others. She had a gift in lending her ears to listen. Her conversation made you feel like everything is going to be alright.

Her smile and tenderness warmed your heart along with her hugs that gave you comfort in time of need. Gwendolyn was dedicated to loving her family with deep compassion.

She was preceded in death by, her father Troy Chester; grandmother, Lillie Marshall; grandfather, Willie Collier Sr.; one brother Darryl Jones; two sisters, Janice Holloway and Wynona Huddleston; four aunts, Bessie Taylor, Maxine Parker, Maudie Williams, and Myrtle Williams; four uncles, John Evans, Thomas Evans, Doyle Evans, and Ralph Parker.

Gwendolyn leaves to cherish her memory her three daughters: Jacqueline "Meeka" Huddleston (Jerry), Lawana "Bubba" Huddleston-Wilson (Charles), and Yolanda Huddleston; two sons, Romon Wilkerson (Stephanie) and Lavell Huddleston; seven sisters: Deborah O'Guin, Marie Huddleston, Karen Huddleston, Della Higgs (Oscar), Stephanie Thornton (Albert), Angela Huddleston, and Ashley Huddleston; six brothers: Melvin Driver, Troy "Rusty" Huddleston, Michael "Dickey" Huddleston, Lawrence "Sandy Man" Huddleston, Andre "Trail" Huddleston, and Tarance "Gipsy Man" Huddleston; fourteen grandchildren; nine great-grandchildren; special sisters-friends, Deborah Jones and Gwen Davis; and a host of aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, cousins and friends.
