HIS LIFE REMEMBERED

Clarence Earl Cox was born on January 26, 1964 to a mild mannered, always smiling mother Jessie Lee Mayfield and quiet smooth baritone father Willie Lee Cox in Eldorado Arkansas. Clarence was the baby of this union and affectionately known as "C". The family moved to Oklahoma City later that year.

Clarence grew up in the Creston Hills Neighborhood where he easily made friends with his magnetic enthusiasm and fun loving personality. You could always find him hanging out at the neighborhood parks with friends Garland Love, Robert Burks, Kenny Holman and Felton Morgan just to name a few. Clarence was a proud 1982 graduate of Northwest Classen High School. During his time there he was a valued member of the 1979 All City Freshman Basketball Championship team and the 1982 5A State Basketball Championship team. Clarence loved all sports but, if you knew him well, you knew he was a diehard Oakland Raiders fan. He was all about the Silver and Black!

Clarence was always a hard worker. His work history includes working for Penn Industries, manufacturing vinyl tops for automobiles, Continental Carlisle, Liberty National and Globe Life, where he could drive and operate any forklift that you put in front of him. As always he formed many long lasting friendships with co-workers throughout his life.

Clarence attended Prospect Baptist Church in his early years and later united with Voice of Praise Baptist Church under the leadership of Rev. Epron Monson, and spiritual guidance under Senior Pastor, Rev. Tony Wise.

HIS FAMILY LIFE

Clarence was a proud father of three beautiful daughters, Camille Cox, Chantalee Cox, and Colby Cox'Payne. He was also blessed with two son's Clarence Samuel Cox and Cory Cox.

Clarence was proceeded in death by his grandparents, Uncle Howard Mack and sister-in-law Margie McHenry.

Memories of Clarence's voice will always be heard singing smooth ballads of comfort and affirmation to those he leaves to cherish, his 5 children, his parents, Jessie Lee Cox and Willie Lee Cox, stepfather Joe Dawkins; Siblings: Joe McHenry (Arlene), Loretta Rollins, Joe Dale (Marla), Willie B Cox (Tami), Audrey Gibson (Damieon), Terry Dawkins, Carl Dawkins, Stephanie Dawkins and Earl Dawkins (Rosalind). Children: Camille, Colby, Cory, Chantalee and Clarence. Grandchildren: Corneluis, R'Monnie and Rhiann Smith, CamRynn Vincent, Aryeon Payne Jr, Laila Smith, Nya Cox and Mariah Ward.

Also left to cherish his memory are a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, friends and many special fatherless young boys that he stood in the gap for.
